Persistent fog

It was hard to see Upland's kiosks and cars last week due to the dense fog which surrounded the area and persisted until evening. The National Weather Service says that this type of long, persistent fog is unusual, but fog can be expected until March. Last week's dense fog was due to moist marine air with a high relative humidity which was trapped in the area by a high pressure area which acted like a lid on the warm air, causing the dense fog.

Windfall speeds Cucamonga wash bridge

An unexpected windfall allowed the County Board of Supervisors to appropriate $525,000 for the Cucamonga bridge a year early, according to Supervisor Daniel Mikesell.

The extra $492,918 came from an unbudgeted refund from the Federal Aid to Secondary Road Improvement Program. The remaining $32,582 was transferred from another fund to allow for the completion of the bridge across Baseline prior to the 1972-73 rainy season.

"I'm extremely pleased and gratified that the money was discovered before this fiscal budget because this moves up the construction of the bridge."

The second district supervisor pointed out the high priority of the project. "The bridge will do away with a dangerous dip," said Mikesell, regarding the existing road which is built in the wash.

He emphasized that the bridge will prevent the Cucamonga Creek from washing out Baseline Avenue and will provide for through traffic even in times of heavy run-off.

The County Road Department is currently completing the project engineering and the additional funds will allow for completion of the engineering project this October or November.

The improvement project bridge will span 1,000 feet from Carnelian Street to Alta Cuesta and carry four lanes of traffic and pedestrian walkways on both sides.

Mikesell said, "The big thing about the bridge is getting emergency services into Red Hill as well as busing school children. With the bridge, there will be no problems, of access to Red Hill as in the 1969 flood when Country Club Drive and Baseline were washed out."

Candidates continue registering

With only one week remaining, eight candidates have filed papers with the city clerk's office for the April 11 election.

These candidates for the mayor's office include Jerry Morris, student, Hal Bailin, present city councilman and attorney and Joe J. Serrao, insurance agent.

Papers for the office of councilman have been filed by the present mayor, George Gibson, in charge of plant protection at Kaiser Steel; John A. Meyer, businessman and Louis B. Penna, owner of a heating and air conditioning business.

Present city treasurer and CPA, Robert Thrall has filed his papers for the treasurer office. Also seeking renomination for her office is Dee Carpenter, city clerk, has filed papers.

Five candidates have taken out papers but have not filed them with the city clerk. William Dean Campbell, a student, took papers out for mayor, William L. Bottin, management consultant; Bruce De Paula, student; Thomas Hermes, student and Jerald A. Lane, sale manager, have taken out papers for the position of city councilman, but have not filed.

The deadline for filing is noon, Thursday, Feb. 3.

City Clerk Carpenter noted the greater number of students participating in the elections. "We've never had as much interest by the younger members of the community as this year for the city elections," said Dee Carpenter.

Registration for the election closes on Thursday, Feb. 17.

Foster families featured at library

"Foster Families are Needed" will be on display in the lower level of the Upland Library for the next two weeks, according to Mrs. Louise Franke, head librarian.

The display, created by the San Bernardino Welfare Department, features photographs of children who are homeless. Also available is an information sheet on "How to Become a Foster Family."

This display has been created by the county to focus on the need for foster families for older children, 7-17, says Alfred F. Coony, community relations officer for the County Welfare Department. A foster family provides the temporary room and board for children who must live outside their own home for various reasons. There are 1200 of such children, according to Coony.

"The most important requirement is to be able to love someone else's child," says Coony. He adds that more specific requirements include:

- married for two years.
- at least 21 years of age.
- sufficient income to meet their own needs.
- mother not employed outside the home.

Candy sale in progress

Within the next two weeks, 275 girls in blue and red will be selling Camp Fire Girl candy in the Upland, Alta Loma and Cucamonga area.

Dollar boxes of Pecanaprides, assorted chocolates and chocolate mint cream sticks will be available until Monday, Feb. 7.

Funds from the candy sales support the program and supportive services of the district such as training for adult members, recruiting, workshops, camping, personnel and upkeep.

In addition, groups use their money for group trips, train rides and money is also used for service projects such as children's and rest homes and hospitals. One group in Alta Loma adopted grandparents who were residents of a nearby convalescent home.

The Chaffey District sold 21,240 boxes of candy last year and this year's goal is 22-24,000 boxes.

Candidates qualifications statements

Election codes allow Spanish

Candidates Qualification Statements may now be printed in Spanish for an additional $100, according to Dee Carpenter, city clerk who attended the election code seminar for all Southern California city clerks.

The election code seminar was to acquaint city clerks on the particular legislation which will govern the April 11 election.

A problem arises on some legislation due to the late adjournment date of the State Legislature. Some laws governing the election will be effective before the election, some after the election.

An example of this situation are the laws regarding the optional candidates qualification statements. The new law which will allow the statements to be 200 words instead of the present 150 word limitation, will not go into effect until March 4, one month after the filing date. Thus candidates will have to wait until the next election to take advantage of this new law.

However, another law allowing the statements to be printed in Spanish will be in effect for this election because the statements are not mailed until after the March 4 deadline.

Speakers at the Los Angeles seminar included H. "Pat" Sullivan, ex-California Secretary of State and currently employed with the County Registrar's Recording Office who discussed the new election legislation.

Library schedules

Oriental art program

The Friends of the Upland Library have planned four programs to be held in the multipurpose room of the library.

The first of the series on Saturday, Jan. 29, at 8 p.m. will be a program on Oriental Art by Hugh Wass.

The son of Marie Podrasnic Wass and the late Warren Wass, young Wass, a Fulbright Scholar, has spent five years in Japan and the Orient where he studied at the University of Tokyo. His other studies have earned him a B. A. degree from Colorado College and an M. A. from the University of Michigan. Also, he has studied at the University of Kansas and the University of Iowa, as well as at the Freer Gallery in Washington, D. C. and the Toledo Museum of Art. This year he is teaching Oriental Art at Mills College and is a visiting lecturer at the University of California, Berkeley.

The program is open to members of the Friends and guests as well as art groups and others interested in Oriental art.

Hosts for the evening will be Clint Thompson and Ian Brodie. Mrs. Glenn Deal, membership chairman, will be present to accept memberships for all who are interested in joining the Friends and will also take renewals.

Following the program, refreshments will be served and the opportunity given to talk informally with the speaker.

Mountains of candy

Preparing for the sweet tooth lovers of the Upland area, Mrs. Robert Everhart, depot chairman, and Karen Williams, sure up the high stacks of Camp Fire Girl candy that is now on sale until Monday, Feb. 7. Corine Williams and Melinda Everhart inspect the Pecan Prides, assorted chocolates and chocolate mint cream sticks that are on sale for a dollar per box.

Foster families

Sandy Morales adjusts a new display in the lower level of the Upland Library which gives information on Foster Families. The display presented by the San Bernardino County Welfare Department, will remain for two weeks, and gives the requirements to become a foster family.

A little girl discovers mystery of butterflies

A young girl in Claremont is grateful to a former La Verne College graduate -- so much so that she wanted to share the story with others who may know him, following the suggestion of her teacher, Charles Noff-singer.

Suzie Negus, a Chaparral Elementary School student, and her class were studying insects when an article on butterflies, written by Paul W. Beard, came out in the L.A. Times.

"I am very thankful to the nice man, Mr. Beard, who sent me a letter about butterflies," says Suzie. "The whole class is very proud to say that he sent us a large story, and that his picture is in the National Geographic, April, 1963 issue. His newspaper article is called 'The Mystery of the Monarch', and gives some very interesting information about butterflies. We are also proud to say that he graduated from La Verne College in 1949."

Suzie wrote to Beard, who lives in Monterey, Calif., where the natives call him "Mr. Bug". Beard replied, sending her printed material, as well as answering a number of her questions.

The letter contained material about the tagging of monarch butterflies from a central station in Toronto, Canada, where their flights are recorded "so it is easy to discover how far the butterfly traveled between tagging and recapture," Beard said while he cooperated in the project he was not notified directly when his butterflies were found, but that there are many new research helpers volunteering their time in the project.

"I have a large net on a long handle (15 feet or so)," he said, "which I place under a cluster, then up and around it in a shaking motion. I do this real early in the morning just at sun up. The cold, stiff butterflies can just barely wiggle as they fall by the hundreds into the net. It is then easy to remove them one at a time, put on a tag, and turn them loose."

And yes, he said, they would certainly find another tree if someone cut down the one they'd been using. (He admitted the newspaper article made it sound like there was just one tree they'd been using in that locale).

In telling of the butterflies' habits, Beard noted, "On warm days they leave the trees to feed on flowers around town. My educated guess is that many monarchs live about nine months, once they reach the adult stage. However, many die during the winter, due to heavy rain and decapitation by slugs, once they are knocked to the ground.

"Probably only half are left to migrate out from here each spring. On top of that, many are killed by parasites or disease during the larva and pupa stage. As with most insects, hundreds of eggs are laid for each one reaching maturity."

"If all fly eggs, for example, matured, and each new generation laid their normal amount with more dying before maturity, the earth's surface would be covered by a four-foot deep solid mass of flies in one year. It takes many factors to keep them in check."

"This interaction and balancing of the living things is what we mean by ECOLOGY. Everything that lives (animals) depends on some other living thing's life. Put another way, everything that dies (both plants and animals) becomes food for new living things."

Beard ended his letter with this cheery bit of hope: "I suggest that next spring you look for eggs of young larva on any milkweed plants you can find. They should be showing up good by April."

He enclosed a brochure relating other facts such as:

--Monarchs exist across the USA and in Southern Canada, and prefer laying their eggs on milkweed plants. (This is fortunate, since the larva would starve rather than feed on other plants. "Not all kinds of caterpillars are this particular about what they eat, but many, like the Monarch, have a specific host plant," says Beard.)

--In warm climates, the egg hatches in a few days, and "eats voraciously until his skin is too tight for comfort". After four moulting periods, after which he always eats ravenously, the larva is about two inches long and ready to pupate.

--In the pupation process, a button of silk the size of a pin is fastened under a leaf or branch. Clasp this with the tiny hooks of his rear prolegs, the caterpillar then hangs head downward while great changes take place under the skin while the cell protoplasm is reorganized from larva organs to organs of the adult butterfly. Later the larva skin is shed through wriggling upward motions. A beautiful green chrysalis, decorated with golden spots, replaces the larva. About 10 days later, the orange and black markings show through the chrysalis shell, which breaks open to release a damp, struggling butterfly with crinkled wings. Then the veins of the wings are pumped full of fluid from the body and expand.

--The entire cycle from egg to adult can occur in as little as one month, but in cooler regions it takes two months. Three or more generations per year are common.

--In the fall and winter,

The monarch butterfly

the monarchs migrate to warmer climates, with vernal migration beginning about March 1. They are not given to swarming, despite popular belief.

--Flight records of tagged monarchs indicate they take flights up to 2,000 miles, with one having covered 800 miles in 10 days.

Christian Science

UPLAND—The basis of genuine brotherhood will be brought out Sunday at Christian Science church services.

"Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God," a Scriptural passage to be read states. The subject of the Bible Lesson-Sermon is "Love."

The effect of divine Love in action is also brought out in citations from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy. One reads: "The rich in spirit help the poor in one grand brotherhood, all having the same Principle, or Father; and blessed is the man who seeth his brother's need and supplieth it, seeking his own in another's good." Mrs. Francis Marshall, the First Reader, and Mr. William Davidson, the Second Reader, conduct the Sunday services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, 1429 N. Euclid Ave. The services begin at 11 a.m. Child care is provided.

The Neftones

The Neftones, a musical group of professional educators, will present an evening program of a patriotic and inspirational nature Sunday, Jan. 30, 6 p.m. in the First Church of the Nazarene, 120 W. Ninth St., Upland. The Neftones represent National Educators Fellowship, an organization of Christian educators in the public schools of America. They maintained a weekly radio program called "Vision" for over two years on KBBB, Riverside. Joyce Berk of Claremont, who will do a chalk drawing of the head of Christ, Ann Skipton of Chino and Ron Kriesel of Upland, are featured soloists. Ed Holtrist of Ontario will tie the music and testimonies together with narration and poetry, and Ruth Galbreth of Ontario is the Neftones' pianist. "We want teachers, parents and students to become aware of their freedoms. The Bible still has a legal place in the public schools of America," said Ron Kriesel, president of Neftones.

Pack 601

UPLAND - At a recent meeting of Cub Scout Pack 601 three boys graduated into Boy Scouts. Monty Carroll, Mark LaCroix and Eric Filhart received the Packs traditional banner of Moments and badges of their Cub Scouting days. They were welcomed into Troop 622 by Assistant Scout Master Jim Long.

Toys should be evaluated

CHICAGO, - In spite of federal regulations, proposed local legislation, and industry self-regulation, providing safe toys for their children this year will depend primarily on the wisdom and judgment of parents, the National Safety Council says.

What can a parent do to see that his child's toys will be safe? First, he can select toys that fit the child's age and ability. Gerald Cole, the National Safety Council's child safety consultant, says, "You can't always depend on the manufacturer's age guidelines. If the advertising reads '7 to 12 years,' the device will probably not appeal to the sophisticated 12-year old but on the other hand, may be used by children under seven."

The toy industry has been working on labeling this last year, but a parent should still evaluate a toy on the basis of his child's interests and ability. Parents should be careful not to fall into the trap of buying toys they like rather than toys appropriate to the child.

To help adults pick toys which are suitable for a child's age level, Cole offers the following guidelines:

- Babies up to one year of age like to feel, chew, hold, drop and look at things. Buy brightly colored toys to hang where the baby can see them, or toys that squeak or rattle. But be sure that the toys are too large to be swallowed and that they have no small attachments that might come loose.

- Toddlers from 1 to 2 years of age love to investigate the world. Choose playthings that they can take apart and put back together, or move from one place to another.

- Between 2 and 3 years of age children love to experiment. They like to build things with blocks, turn the pages of books, dabble with finger paints. But they still may try to swallow small objects, so be careful about the size of the toy.

- At 3 or 4 years of age, the child often tries to imitate adults. Good "let's pretend" gifts include small brooms and carpet sweepers, toy telephones, dolls, miniature tools, trucks and tractors, and suitcases to pack and unpack.

- Little people start to be more creative in their play around ages 4 to 6. They enjoy paints and paint books, dolls that have clothes or a doll house and furniture, small sports equipment, simple construction sets and even costumes for dramatic play.

- By age 6 children like to test their manipulative ability. Select play equipment that will help to develop the child's skills, but be sure the toys are not too complicated. Simple games and puzzles, construction sets, or a sled will all make good Christmas gifts.

- The interests of children 8 years and older vary a good deal according to the child. By this time a child usually has some definite likes and dislikes, so select a toy with the child specifically in mind. Remember that a background of safe play habits will serve the child well.

After selecting toys for your child's age and interest, carefully inspect them for cutting, piercing and other hazards, keeping in mind that the device is likely to be abused in use. Look for non-toxic labels on children's art supplies and painted toys. A child is impulsive and likely to put anything into its mouth. All electrical toys should carry the Underwriters Laboratories (UL) mark on the toy and the plug. Buy only toys that are battery operated for young children. Because of the low voltage of battery operated toys, the child is not likely to receive a shock.

Finally, a parent should be prepared to supervise the play activities of his children, especially if they are using cooking, melting-molding electrical toys, chemistry and laboratory sets, disk throwing items that require skill and practice or the more sophisticated target toss sports games.

If a parent thinks his child has a dangerous toy, he should contact the toy safety specialist, Gerald Cole, Home Safety Dept., National Safety Council, 425 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60611. The parent should include his name, the brand name of the toy and the manufacturer's name and address, if possible. He should specifically outline the problem with the toy. If the child has actually had an accident, it should be described in detail. Cole will then work with the toy manufacturer to eliminate the hazard.

Avoid crowds renew license now--not later

SACRAMENTO—California motorists planning to register their vehicles for 1972 can do so at 150 Department of Motor Vehicles offices, numerous Auto Club branches, 100 banks or the nearest mailbox. "Whatever course they choose," cautions DMV Director Robert Cozens, "the important thing is to register soon; and here's why:

"Right now, the nearest DMV office is a good bet for fast service almost any time. However each passing day guarantees longer lines of customers. Even now, lunch-hour lines are likely to be slow."

Vehicle registrations by mail are encouraged for uncomplicated renewals. If motorists have a complicated renewal problem, Cozens suggests that the transaction be accomplished personally at one of the department's field offices.

Cozens reminds people who haven't received renewal notices on vehicles they own: "If nothing has reached you by mid-January, wait no longer. Take last year's registration card to the nearest DMV office and talk to a registration clerk."

DMV will provide a Saturday renewal opportunity from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday Jan. 29th.

The renewal deadline is Friday Feb. 4 -- the first Friday in February. After that, penalties apply.

United Jewish Appeal campaign opens

POMONA -- Launching of the 1972 United Jewish Appeal campaign in the Pomona Valley was given impetus recently at a joint planning meeting held by members of the UJA committee along with the Intercommunity Jewish Council.

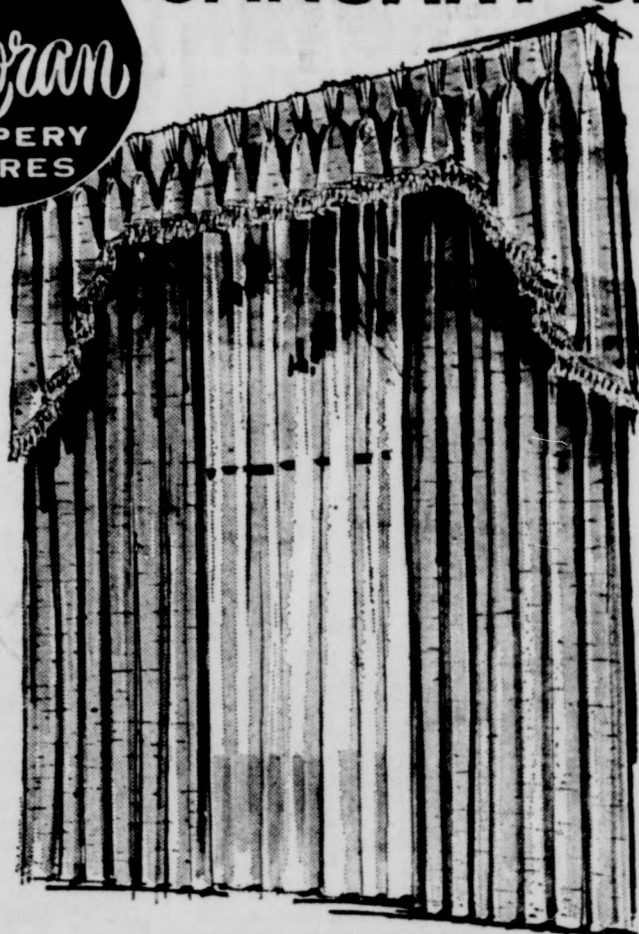

The 1972 Appeal to the Jewish community in the United States is to "Keep the Promise." The promise has been made to thousands of Jews in Israel seeking new life and full opportunity. Fulfilling that promise means helping new immigrants become integrated into their new home by the provision of decent housing, education and employment. Schooling for children, health services for the sick, and a dignified level of assistance for the aged and infirm are part of the promise.

Direct contributions may be forwarded to the UJA treasurer, Melvin Aberman, 302 Springfield, Claremont.

'New' math explored

Robert Ardinger instructs adult education class in the "new" math, initiated recently upon request of parents. There are 24 parents who meet each Wednesday night for three hours at Ramona Intermediate School to probe the mysteries of new math, with the objective of assisting their children with the school work more effectively.

LA VERNE-SAN DIMAS -- Three plus five equals 13? Oh, well, now!

All the same, this fact, and other mysteries of the "new" mathematics, are currently being explored by an adult education class in Modern Math for Parents, recently initiated (at their request) for a group of concerned parents in the Bonita Unified School District.

The class is conducted for three hours each Wednesday night in the new Mathematics Learning Center at Ramona Intermediate School, La Verne. Emphasis is on the concepts and methods of "new" math, as is now being taught in the district's schools.

The objective of the course is to enable parents to help their children with their school work more effectively. Douglas Halverson, Ramona principal, has made the full facilities of the new Math Learning Center available to the class to help them attain their objective.

Robert Ardinger, instructor of the class, reports that its members are enthusiastic and hard-working. Rating them exceptional in mastering the materials covered, he adds, "They are all definitely A-plus students."

Dr. Noel M. Shutt, district director of adult education, points out that the concern, initiative, time, effort, and personal expense contributed by the parents enrolled in the class illustrate the close working relationship between parents and schools existing in the Bonita Unified District in the interest of improving education for children.

Parents registered for the course include: Karin Anderson, Jeffrey Bell, Loretta Bergmann, Sarena Bruce, Cleo Burton, Lavena Burton, Penny Coburn, Doratha Della Penna, Marcia Edmundson, Lavon Grey, Gay Howard, Diane Manson, Sharon McLain, Susan Moran, Joyce Muchmore, Noland Pearce, Sharrie Pearce, Ursula Petrotta, Irwin Schaeffer, Donna Schrader, Richard Schrader, Dolores Slocum, Lynn Van Coren, and Dean White.

Bonita GS Neighborhood holds skating party

LA VERNE - SAN DIMAS -- Girl Scouts from the Bonita Neighborhood of Spanish Trails Girl Scout Council gathered recently for their annual Skating Party at Holiday Roller Skating Rink in Montclair. Due to the large number of participants, both Tuesday and Wednesday were reserved.

Brownies, Juniors, Cadettes and leaders all tried their skill at roller skating.

Junior Scouts were fulfilling one of nine requisites for their Skater Badges. The management of the Holiday Rink offered a special course for them, which will enable them to complete the remaining eight requirements. Some of the essentials taught in this course were care of skates, good form in skating, skating to music, and first aid to a skater.

Mrs. LeRoy Guck coordinated this event. Participating troops from La Verne and San Dimas were: Cadette Troop 297 - Mrs. Tony Braley; Junior Troops - 714 - Mrs. John Bauer; 598 - Mrs. Kenneth Swank; 18 - Mrs. Charles Steinhart; 421 - Mrs. H.N. ## A time for saying thanks

UPLAND - It was a time for saying "thank-you" and a time for looking back on the past year. It was also a time for rejoicing — the three branches of the West End Boys' Clubs, Inc. had never been in as good shape as they were now, even though the budget showed a deficit.

Nearly 800 boys in the cities of Upland, Ontario and Cucamonga are members of the boys' club. Each year the board of directors struggles financially to keep its head above water, for to close a branch would mean to turn boys out into the streets.

And that's why spoken thank-yous and rejoicing abounded at the WEBC Annual Awards Banquet held last week.

Services lauded

Receiving special thanks for services donated to the West End Boys' Clubs, Inc. during the past year were, from left, John Musser, Upland, Volunteer's Award; Mrs. Herb Minor, Cucamonga, President's Award for a member of the board of directors for outstanding service; and Dr. James Phelps, Upland, an appreciation plaque on behalf of board members to the outgoing president. The awards were presented at the recently held annual awards banquet.

Outstanding boys

The West End Boys' Clubs, Inc. annual Awards Banquet was climaxed with the naming of the outstanding boys of the year for each of the three branches. From these three boys, the Boy of the Year was named. Pictured from left are Steve Barker, Upland Branch Boy of the Year and winner of the Don Byer Memorial Perpetual Trophy for the West End Boys' Clubs, Inc. Boy of the Year; Andrew (Bozo) Thomas, Ontario Branch Boy of the Year; Ron Gonzales, winner of the Will and Edith Mason Memorial Citizenship Award, (he's a member of the Ontario Branch), and Robert Meza, Cucamonga Branch Boy of the Year. Pictured with the boys is race car driver Mark Donohue, guest speaker at the banquet.

New officers

Metropolitan audition set

SAN BERNARDINO-A new year is beginning for the Metropolitan Opera Auditions. There are a few slight changes in requirements, age limits have been stabilized, and there are some wonderful new awards available on the Regional and National levels, with Regional awards now totaling nearly $3000, according to Miss Gwendolyn Roberts, District Director for the San Bernardino-Riverside Counties District, and member of the Regional governing Committee.

The District Auditions this year will be held on Thursday, Feb. 20, in the Elsie Gibbs Auditorium at Pacific High School in San Bernardino. This will be the 12th year that auditions have been held in this area under the direction of Miss Roberts.

The purpose of these auditions is to help discover new operatic talent and to make it possible for young singers in all parts of the country to be heard and aided in their careers. Approximately 1000 singers were auditioned in 1971 alone.

Miss Roberts recently attended a Regional Committee Planning Session at the home of Mr. Mitchell Lathrop in Pasadena. Mr. Lathrop is the new Regional Chairman, taking that position after Mr. Alexander Saunderson, the former Chairman, was elected President of the Metropolitan Opera National Council.

Any and all singers of this area who are interested in this exceptional opportunity may secure information and brochures by contacting Miss Gwendolyn Roberts, 1898 Genevieve St., San Bernardino, 92405.

Winners from this District will also receive an award and will be sent to Los Angeles to compete in the Regional quarter-finals in Hancock Auditorium on the Campus of the University of Southern California on Wednesday, Feb. 29, and March 1, and the Semi-Finals on Thursday, March 2, in Bovard Auditorium on the same campus, when winners from all seven of the Districts in the Western Regional area will be competing for an opportunity to appear in the Western Regional Finals on Saturday, March 4, in Bovard Auditorium.

First place winners from this District will go directly to the Semi-finals, and the second and third place winners will compete in the quarter-finals for an opportunity to appear in the semi-finals.

"Applicants must have a voice with operatic possibilities, some voice training, musical background, but need not have professional experience or finished training. Age regulations are: Soprano - 18 to 30; Mezzo-Soprano and Contralto - 20 to 30; Tenor - 20 to 30; Baritone - 20 to 32; and Basses 20 to 33.

Young singers through out this area are urged to contact Miss Roberts immediately for information and application forms for entrance in the District Auditions on Sunday, Feb. 20, so that arrangements may be made for scheduling appointments without delay.

Padua Theatre offers 'Michoacan Alegre'

CLAREMONT -- The "Dance of the Moors," the love songs of fisher folk and the laments of Tarascan Indians, is included in "Michoacan Alegre," a musical folk play in two acts, now being offered at Padua Hills Theatre.

For more than 40 years the Mexican Players have presented folk plays about Mexico the year around at the theatre and the music of Michoacan is perhaps the most varied. Set on the shores of Lake Patzcuaro, the play offers a perfect opportunity to enjoy a chairside trip to Michoacan, a large beautiful state in west central Mexico.

"Michoacan Alegre" will run through Feb. 26 with a curtain time at 8:30 p.m. Wednesdays through Saturdays. Matinee time on Wednesdays and Saturdays is 2:30. Reservations are not always necessary but are recommended. Phone (714) 626-1288.

Patrons often dine in the adjoining Padua Dining Room where the Mexican Players also entertain before stage call.

The theatre, dining room and shops are sponsored by Padua Institute, a nonprofit corporation dedicated to the preservation of Mexican folk art for the appreciation of everyone, including Mexican-Americans. It is located on Padua Avenue, three miles north of Foothill Blvd., in Claremont.

Council makes air pollution control recommendations

SANTA PAULA - The South Coast Air Basin Coordinating Council recently completed its preliminary recommendations as to an Air Pollution Control Program to be implemented by local districts and the State of California. The Control Program is designed to achieve Air Quality Standards adopted by the State of California.

The plan included a complete summary of existing air quality programs in operation throughout the basin, projections as to expected pollutant emission reductions from current motor vehicle control programs recommendations for additional air quality monitoring network stations and instruments, some suggestions for District Enforcement and discussion of some "people problem" (land use and transportation use) type control strategy options to be evaluated as possible additional control strategy techniques.

Some of the specific pollutant emission control strategies suggested by the plan are more stringent limits on the emissions of particulate matter, sulfur oxides, nitrogen oxides, and reactive hydrocarbons. For example, the recommendation for particulate emission reductions advised reducing the allowed opacity of emissions from 40 to 20 per cent.

In addition to these, several new emission limits the Coordinating Council Plan recommended that each district limit the granting of permits to construct to those operations which would contribute additional contaminants to those areas where the ambient standards are already or are likely to be exceeded. Implementation of this recommendation would significantly effect new construction in any area of the basin which currently has air quality problems.

In reaction to the lack of adequate factual information as to the effectiveness of such additional control strategies as car pooling, limitations on freeway traffic, and land use controls, the council also demanded that the State legislature fund either the State ARB of the South Coast Air Basin Coordinating Council technical staff to rapidly and carefully study the air quality improvements and the costs associated with such remedies as:

Car pooling, staggering working hours, reduced work week, land use planning, establishing air carrying capacity, limits on vehicular and people populations in the basin and eliminating lead from gasoline.

The council in its recommendation to the State insisted that these studies be underway by July 1, 1972.

In an effort to define the legal responsibility and authority for implementing such unusual and drastic control techniques the council instructed its legal staff to meet with the State Attorney General's Office and the ARB legal staff to define those legal authorities available to County Air Pollution Control Districts, Boards of Supervisors and the State.

Copies of the plan are available from the State Air Resources Board, 434 S. San Pedro Street, Los Angeles or for review at any of the County Air Pollution Control offices in Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Orange, Riverside, Santa Barbara or Ventura Counties.

Sorority slates Valentine Ball

Presentation of 10 chapter queens will highlight the annual "Rubies and Roses" Valentine Ball hosted by Citrus Area Council of Beta Sigma Phi, Saturday, Feb. 5, at Ontario Motor Speedway. The festivities will commence with cocktails at 7, and dinner at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Frank Ellings of San Dimas, council president, stated over 200 members and guests are expected at the semi-formal affair.

Chairman of the ball is Mrs. David Peterson of Pomona, assisted by Mrs. John Colget of Baldwin Park. Mrs. Peterson reported the banquet will feature top sirloin steak. Round tables and the head table will be decorated in pink and red, reflecting the Valentine theme.

Supplying the music for dancing will be the Chuck Hardy Trio. Couple and group pictures will be offered by a photographer from Galaxy Studios.

Past queens will invest the new queens with their chapter banners as they are escorted through a rose-bedecked arbor by their husbands. Mrs. Ellings and the 1971 council queen, Mrs. Errol McGowan, will present bouquets of velvet roses to each one.

1972 Valentine queens and their chapters are: Pi Beta - Mrs. Ronald Lundgren, La Verne; Delta Alpha Tau - Mrs. Igor Sedor, Glendora; Delta Chi - Mrs. John Duran, Glendora; Zeta Tau - Mrs. Ronald Politt, Walnut; Xi Epsilon Zeta - Mrs. James Monerly, Monrovia; Xi Kappa Phi - Mrs. Don Kramer, Covina; Xi Nu Eta - Mrs. Arthur Behrends, Covina; Xi Pi Mu - Mrs. George Seaman, West Covina; Preceptor Psi - Mrs. Roland Ortmayer, La Verne and Sigma Phi - Mrs. Jack Willingham, Covina.

A cocktail party honoring the queens and husbands was given by Citrus Area Council Sunday, Jan. 30 at the Ellings home, San Dimas. Council board members were hostesses for the event.

Rubies and Roses

Mrs. David Peterson, chairman of the upcoming Citrus Area Council Beta Sigma Phi Valentine Ball, places banner on the council president, Mrs. Frank Ellings, while Mrs. Errol McGowan, out-going council queen, looks on. The ball, for which the theme will be "Rubies and Roses," will be held Saturday, Feb. 5, at Ontario Motor Speedway, beginning with a 7 p.m. cocktail hour and dinner at 8.

Tax referees test scheduled

SACRAMENTO -- A statewide examination to qualify candidates for possible future appointments as Inheritance Tax Referees will be given Saturday, March 4, by the State Personnel Board, State Controller Houston L. Flournoy announced recently.

Flournoy said the primary need for the examination is to establish qualified candidates in 18 non-metropolitan counties. The number of persons already qualified in the metropolitan counties is substantial, and the potential openings in those counties are few, he added.

There presently is a need for panels of qualified candidates from among whom appointments could be made should vacancies occur in the counties of Alpine, Amador, Calaveras, Del Norte, Imperial, Lassen, Mariposa, Mendocino, Modoc, Mono, Nevada, Plumas, San Benito, Sierra, Tehama, Trinity, Tuolumne and Yuba. A number of other non-metropolitan counties each have only one or two candidates qualified by previous examinations.

This will be the first examination given under a new law authored by Senator Gordon Cologne, R-Riverside, which established four year terms, required a qualifying examination given by the State Personnel Board, prohibited political campaign contributions to the State Controller by Inheritance Tax Referees or applicants and limited their contribution to other candidates, and exempted cash - type assets from appraisal by referees, Flournoy explained.

Qualification extends for five years from the date of the examination, including those given in 1967 and 1970 under an administrative order by Flournoy.

The three-hour written examination will be given in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Sacramento, Redding, Eureka, Fresno, Santa Barbara, San Diego, Susanville, Bishop, Salinas and Riverside. Test locations may be limited or extended as the number of applicants or conditions warrant, the Controller added.

The examination will cover four general subject areas -- appraisal of real property, appraisal of tangible and intangible personal property, analytical and reasoning ability, and inheritance tax law and procedures.

Copies of the official examination announcement and application forms may be obtained from any State Personnel Board office and from the State Controller, P.O. Box 1019, Sacramento 95805, the Controller said.

Applications must be postmarked not later than Saturday, Feb. 5, accompanied by the $3 application fee fixed by the State Personnel Board.

Survey shows motorists don't 'buckle up'

LOS ANGELES - Only between 10 and 15 percent of California motorists, surveyed in a University of Southern California study, use auto seat belts, a USC researcher reported today.

This and other recent studies suggest the figure probably holds true nationwide. It is less than half the previously accepted estimate that about one-third of all drivers "buckle up," according to Dr. Gerald A. Fleischer, USC professor of industrial and systems engineering, who recently completed the research in three California communities.

Moreover, radio and television public service announcements urging people to use the belts for their own safety did not appear to have any substantial effect in the test communities, Dr. Fleischer said in an interview.

The USC study tested the campaign's effectiveness through 2,000 interviews and observations of nearly 22,000 automobiles over 11 weeks last fall in Salinas, Modesto and Bakersfield, Calif. The study was funded by the U.S. Department of Transportation's National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

Local broadcasters serving Salinas, cooperating with the USC researchers, aired an exhaustive "saturation" campaign of pre-tested public service announcements urging the use of seat belts for safety.

"In Salinas, the number of public service announcements during September on all cooperating stations totaled 1,444," USC's Fleischer said. "The initial results of this highly intensive campaign were as we'd expected. It produced a significant increase in seat belt usage -- from a pre-campaign level of 10 percent to 14 percent during the height of the campaign."

"This improvement, however, was only temporary. In the weeks immediately after the public service announcements were off the air, seat belt usage slipped back to even slightly below the original 10 percent," he noted.

In Modesto, local broadcasters conducted a "moderate" public service campaign in cooperation with the USC research team; that is, there were far fewer announcements.

"As might be expected, the announcements that aired had little effect, because there was little or no change in the numbers of drivers 'buckled up' before, during or after September."

Bakersfield, however, the "control" community in which there were no public service announcements during September, presented some mystifying results for the USC researchers, Fleischer said.

"In Bakersfield, there was an increase and decline to the previous level of seat belt usage much the same as Salinas, despite the fact there were no announcements broadcast. We know of no conditions peculiar to Bakersfield that would explain this unexpected result."

"Most important, however, is that we are able to document the fact that seat belt usage is so low and that public service announcements by broadcast media are not effective as a measure to make any substantial improvements."

USC's Fleischer said the study showed that, generally speaking, motorists driving at high speeds tend to wear their belts more frequently than those driving at lower speeds.

"But again, there is only the difference of a few percentage points. The figure for all drivers remains somewhere between 10 and 15 percent."

Fleischer says he feels the results of the USC study are significant nationally, considering the high rate of auto accidents, and in terms of the federal government's policy-making efforts for auto safety.

"The study results seem to support the view of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration that some sort of passive restraint system is necessary."

Fleischer explained that these are the systems that don't depend on the driver's initiative -- such as "buckling up" with seat belts -- and include such devices as the proposed air bags which inflate on impact.

Fleischer currently is developing plans for another research program, this time to study the effects of a broad-based, multi-media seat belt campaign in a single medium-sized city.

Such a campaign would include in-depth print and broadcast media exposure, billboards, bumper stickers, buttons and participation of local government, civic organizations and private groups.

"Several multi-media campaigns of this type are being conducted in Europe. The British government recently reported a doubling of seat belt usage as the result of a multi-media campaign conducted early last fall," Fleischer said.

Cold temperatures cause problems

SAN BERNARDINO — Subfreezing temperatures in the early morning, pre-dawn hours, not only cause problems for citrus growers and grove caretakers, but also for the San Bernardino County Air Pollution Control District investigators.

Already this winter, temperatures have dipped into the 20's causing concerned citrus growers to light the primarily oil-burning heaters they use to help protect their crops from freezing.

Known as "firing," this activity usually takes place several times each winter and when it does PACD investigators are on the job long before day-break watching for excessive smoke from dirty heaters or heaters that have burned dry or are not properly regulated. The investigators point out that the term "smudge pot" has given way to "orchard heater" since growers have found no truth in the old theory that the more heavy black smoke produced, the more protection for the grove.

In an economical sense, more actual heat per gallon of oil is produced by a clean burning heater. The old method of burning tires and all sorts of smoke producing rubbish to heat groves is now, of course, strictly illegal, but even when this menacing practice was used, the visual measure of smoke was not a valid indicator of the amount of heat.

But even though the situation has improved greatly in more recent years, when temperatures require firing, the APCD investigators head for the groves armed with flashlights and cameras.

Offenders may receive either a citation or a violation notice. A citation requires a court appearance and carries a maximum penalty of $500 or six months in prison or both. An air pollution violation notice requires the violator to show within ten days that the problem has been corrected.

The investigators explain, however, that in these cases excessive smoking was not primarily caused by dirty heaters but rather by oil which continues to smolder after flames had been put out or burned out.

The heaters are extinguished by placing a cap on top of the stack, but if the cap does not fit tightly or if there are other air leaks in the equipment, the oil may produce large quantities of heavy smoke until combustion is completely stopped.

Before any firing is done, however, the investigator inspects the heaters in groves which have applications on file. If dirty or poorly maintained heaters are found, they must be cleaned or repaired before firing can be permitted.

Through this continuing inspection, issuance of permits and on-the-spot observation of the firing operations under frost conditions, the APCD insures that smoke resulting from efforts to prevent frost damage to citrus crops is kept to a minimum.

Fees for firing permits are $3.50 for up to ten acres, $7 for ten to 20 acres, and $10 for anything above 20 acres. In addition, growers must pay two or three cents per heater depending upon the class of heater, but with the total cost of a single permit not to exceed $35.

Class I heaters, including return stack, pipeline and coke heaters, burn cleaner than those in Class II and are therefore permitted at the lower rate. Class II primary includes Lazy Flame, Jumbo Cone, Hy-

Lo, Lemora, Exchange and Kittle heaters. Fuel blocks, made of a chemical compound which burns almost smoke-free, are permitted at only 50 cents an acre.

For the 70-71 winter season, the Air Pollution Control District issued 813 firing permits for 10,711 acres with 414,574 heaters. There were 51 non-firing permits issued for 581 acres with 22,551 heaters. Total permit revenue was nearly $13,000.

Of the 437,125 heaters in the county, 125,773 are Class I and the remaining 311,352 are Class II.

The "Return Stack," most common of the Class I heaters, reburns its emission and therefore creates little smoke and requires little maintenance. The Lazy Flame, most common of the Class II heaters, does not re-burn its emission and should be cleaned after about ten hours of use.

'Something for everybody' goal of extension program

SAN BERNARDINO - "Something for everybody" is the goal of the winter extension program offered by Cal State, San Bernardino's office of Continuing Education.

Serving more than 15 communities, the winter series provides more than 50 courses covering a wide range of topics and interests.

A new bulletin announcing details on the winter courses is now available from the Office of Continuing Education at Cal State. It also will be available shortly at the Riverside and San Bernardino county and city libraries, many banks in the area, and at all local schools.

According to Dr. Roach, courses will be offered on both the quarter and the semester basis. The former are primarily two and three-unit courses, scheduled to run from mid-January through the end of March.

Semester-length courses are mostly five-unit courses meeting once a week. These will begin early in February and continue until May.

One of the highlights of Cal State's extension program this term is the 20 courses aimed at both in-service and prospective teachers, in addition to courses in the elementary teaching credential program offered at College of the Desert.

Considered a main feature of Cal State's extension program, the various education courses concentrate not only on generalized areas, such as "Creative Curriculum for the Classroom," but

SD Saints win pair

BY JIM LOUGH

SAN DIMAS -- The San Dimas Saints went undefeated last week, winning both of their Arrowhead League contests to take over sole possession of second place behind Aquinas.

On Tuesday, they expected a tough hassle with Big Bear's number 3-ranked CIF team, but a combined San Dimas offense and defense walked over the Bears 72-59. The team from Big Bear was unable to contain the talented Saints.

It was the high water mark of the season in scoring for Saints' center Bob Rollins. Big Bob (6'7") poured in 29 points and hauled down a game high of 14 rebounds. Rollins, working six to eight feet from the basket and

SD LL sign-ups

SAN DIMAS - Registration for San Dimas Little League has been set for Wednesday, Feb. 16, between 7 and 9:30 p.m. at Ramona Intermediate School, multi-purpose room B.

Boys will also be allowed to sign up on the three following Saturday mornings at Marchant Park.

Boys whose eighth birthday is not before July 31, or who will not be 13 before that date, are eligible. A parent or guardian must accompany each boy.

There will also be a meeting of managers and coaches on March 2 at Ramona School, which anyone wishing to volunteer as an umpire is urged to attend.

driving well on the Bears' 6-5 Tim Dye, scored a SD season's high.

Big Bear's Randy Perkins paced his team with 23 points. Wayne Moses had 13 for the winners.

On Friday night, the Saints smothered CSDR from Riverside on the Saints' home court 87-39. San Dimas broke several school records in the game. Records falling by the wayside were: Single game scoring record, previously 73 against Sherman, Jan. '71; most points scored in a half previously was 38 against Sherman, Jan. '71. New half-time marks of 41 and 46 points were established. Most points scored by SD in a quarter before Friday was 26. The Saints Friday evening had 27 and 29 to establish new school highs.

Jeff Nelson, responsible for a major portion of the Saints' success, and still the most dangerous man on the team, is beginning to get tremendous assistance from his teammates. Some of the rebounding and scoring chores are being handled by other members, and this makes SD as a team a much greater threat. When the chips are down, Nelson is the man they go to. He can hit from either inside or outside.

San Dimas has upped their Arrowhead League record to 5-1, and should be 7-1 by the end of this week. Their next two games are against Sherman and Webb. Neither team has the personnel to muster any kind of a serious challenge.

The big challenge will be Feb. 1 when SD meets Aquinas. The Falcons' unblemished record, as far as the Saints are concerned, contains a highly disputed game that went into the Aquinas "win" column. This was the Jan. 7 fiasco where the Saints were deprived of a one point victory because the Aquinas scorekeeper failed to credit a basket to San Dimas forward Jeff Nelson during the hectic third period.

Jeff Nelson was high point man in the game Friday against CSDR (California School for the Deaf at Riverside) with 25, to elevate his average to 20.8 points per game. Wayne Moses (18) Bob Rollins (12 with 12 RBs) and John Schober (10 with 8 RBs) paced the Saints' attack. Jeff Nelson grabbed 9 RBs.

John Schober (6-3 Jr.) played well in the CSDR contest, as he did in the Big Bear affair. Against the Bears, Schober's key baskets and rebounds sparked the Saints during the third quarter and ignited a fourth-period 25 point outburst.

Against CSDR, Matt Draayom, the Saints' 6-5 Soph., picked up 8 points and 5 rebounds in playing most of the final frame. Making his first appearance since becoming eligible was Tommy Padillo, a guard, who seems to be able to handle the ball well. He will probably replace the injured Jimmy Johnson who is suffering with a damaged knee and has been out most of the season. He holds many Junior Varsity school marks.

LV LL sign-ups

LA VERNE - La Verne Little League sign-ups will be held Friday, Jan. 28, in the Roynon School cafeteria, between 7 and 9 p.m.

Upland's bubble bursts

UPLAND - Upland High School's varsity basketball team lost twice last week. This is the first time that the varsity basketball team has lost in San Antonio League action since 1970.

Last Tuesday, the Highlanders were nipped by the Ganesha Giants 78-72, at the Giants' Gym. Upland played hot and cold basketball throughout the game, with the Clan having one of its worst quarters of the year in the first, scoring only 12 points, while their much taller hosts poured in 22. In the second quarter, however, it looked like there were two different teams on the floor. Highlanders shot an anemic 32 percent from the floor, (22 for 68), while the Garey fast break gave them many points on lay-ups. Roger Staten led Garey in scoring with 17 points, but high-point honors for the night went to Upland's Bob Iverson, who pumped in a big 24 points, 10 of those from the foul line.

In the first half, Upland was behind most of the time, until a last-second 30-foot jumper by Bob Iverson put the Clan on the plus-side of a 32-30 halftime lead. In the second half, however, the lights went out for the green-and-white. In the third quarter after Upland had made the first point on a charity toss, Garey ran off 11 points in a row. For the third quarter, the Vikings shot a phenomenal 9 out-of-12, while Upland could manage only 2-of-11. The Scots were still in the game, until their top scorer, (Iverson), and their top rebounder, (Satchmo Sanders), both fouled out. Upland never could get their offense going again after that.

(High)-land Marks -- Iverson led Upland in scoring for the week, with 46 points, with Nickolei second with 27, and Sanders third (21) . . . The last time Upland lost until this week was against Bonita in the second round in 1970 . . . Iverson needs only 27 more assists to tie Louie Engle's record of 132 set last year . . . the rest of the league will be looking to Upland to stop the Montclair juggernaut. The Clan will travel to Montclair Tuesday. On Friday, the second round of SAL action starts with Upland trekking to Chino . . . Coach Jerry Cobb's exciting JV squad split their action during the past week. The baby Highlanders lost a 72-59 decision to Ganesha, but they erased an early 12-2 lead that Garey had last Friday night, and blew the Vikes off the court, by the score of 64-50. Kurt Dockman led all scorers with 29 points . . .
